Sample Answer:

European explorers were driven by a combination of economic, political, religious, and technological motivations. Economically, the desire to find new trade routes to Asia to access spices, silk, and other valuable goods was paramount. Politically, nations sought to expand their influence and power through territorial acquisitions. Religiously, Europeans aimed to spread Christianity and counter the Muslim influence in trade routes. Technologically, advances such as the compass, astrolabe, and improved ship designs like the caravel made longer voyages feasible.

- Cons: Could include specific examples like the expeditions of Columbus or Vasco da Gama for more depth.

2. Describe the Columbian Exchange and its effects on the Old and New Worlds.

Sample Answer:

The Columbian Exchange refers to the widespread transfer of plants, animals, cultures, human populations, technology, and ideas between the Americas and the Old World following Columbus's voyages. This exchange introduced new crops such as potatoes, maize, and tomatoes to Europe, which significantly impacted European agriculture and diets. Conversely, Europeans brought horses, cattle, and wheat to the Americas, transforming indigenous societies. The imposition of European culture, religion, and economic systems disrupted traditional ways of life. Many indigenous populations were decimated by diseases like smallpox, measles, and influenza, to which they had no immunity. Additionally, colonization often involved forced labor, land seizure, and cultural suppression, leading to long-lasting social and demographic changes.

Features:

- Pros: Emphasizes both military and biological impacts.
- Cons: Could include specific examples of resistance or adaptation by indigenous peoples.
