India's linguistic landscape is characterized by an extraordinary variety of languages. According to the Census of India 2001, there are over 1,600 distinct languages spoken across the country, with approximately 122 major languages and 1,599 other languages. The languages of India are often associated with specific regions, communities, and even social groups, making language an intrinsic part of identity and cultural heritage. This diversity can sometimes lead to linguistic conflicts but also fosters a unique environment of multilingualism and cultural exchange.

Historical Background of Languages in India

Ancient and Classical Languages

India's history of languages dates back thousands of years.
